- Liver protection
- Fully meets daily needs with unique ingredients.

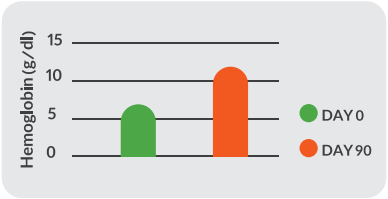

Competitive Advantages:

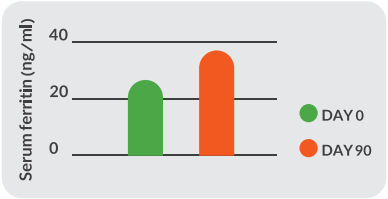

- Contains a complex formulation
- Slow–release technology
- Enteric–coated for better absorption
- No significant side effects
- Formulated with scientifically validated ingredients
- Contains synergistic compounds to improve absorption of vitamins and other nutrients
- Granular formulation for better digestion
- Suitable for individuals with sensitive stomachs
- Does not interfere with food or stomach acid

Key Ingredients and Special Properties:

1. Iron as Ferrous Bisglycinate

- Higher absorption compared to other forms of iron
- Gentle and well–tolerated by the digestive system
- No gastrointestinal side effects
- Facilitates superior and faster absorption of iron
- Suitable for individuals sensitive to other forms of iron

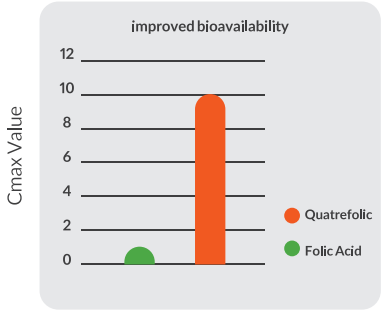

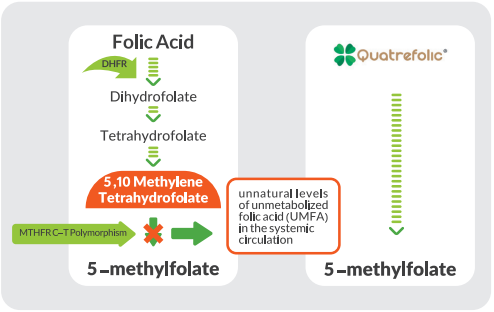

Evaluation of changes in hemoglobin and serum ferritin levels over three months after the consumption of iron in the form of ferrous bisglycinate

2. Quatrefolic (Active Form of Folic Acid)

- The optimal and active form of folic acid
- Better absorption than regular folic acid
- Easily absorbed by the body without needing conversion to its active form
- Effective for individuals with MTHFR genetic mutations or folate absorption issues
- Plays a crucial role in fetal neural development

Quatrefolic is the glucosamine salt of (6S)–5–methyltetrahydrofolate and is structurally analogous to the reduced and active form of folic acid so Quatrefolic completely bypasses the « damaged » MTHFR conversion step and delivers a «finished» folate the body can immediately use without any kind of metabolization.

3. Chromium

- In FeFol Vitamins, chromium is in the form of Chromium Picolinate, which has faster absorption and higher efficacy than other forms of chromium, significantly enhancing therapeutic effectiveness.
- Better efficacy in blood sugar control
- Improves metabolic health
- In the FeFol formulation, chromium is combined with other nutrients like Vitamin D, Vitamin B6, Iron, and Magnesium, creating synergistic effects that enhance chromium absorption and performance in the body.

4. Lecithin

- Helps reduce cholesterol and blood pressure
- Improves cognitive and brain function
- Supports better digestion
- Protects the liver and enhances liver health
- Facilitates better absorption of nutrients and vitamins A, D, E, and K
- Lecithin is a rich source of choline essential for cellular health and nervous system function.

5. Ginseng

- Strong antioxidant properties
- Increases energy and reduces fatigue
- Improves brain function
- Reduces stress
- Has anti–inflammatory properties
- Enhances sexual function
- Improves cardiovascular function

6. PABA (Para–Aminobenzoic Acid)

- Strengthens the immune system
- Known as a natural sunscreen agent that helps reduce damage from ultraviolet (UV) radiation
- Supports hair growth and prevents hair loss
- Helps improve skin issues, including premature aging and skin diseases

Indications:

For both men and women(18 years and older)
